

Green Irene GO GREEN Workshop

Consider hosting a GO GREEN Workshop for friends and neighbors and get a jump-start on eco-friendly changes you can all make to green your corner of the world, save money AND positively impact the environment.

The amount of information about going green is overwhelming and often conflicting. Who do you trust to provide the best information about greening your home? Your local Green Irene Eco-Consultant, supported by the resources of Green Irene LLC, is the knowledgeable green friend you have been wishing for. He or she has all the tools and information necessary to move you and your family toward a healthier, greener life. Host a GO GREEN Workshop and let your local Green Irene share their knowledge!

Many of our ideas are actions you can implement that do not cost a penny. Other changes require a small investment to earn big dividends. Your local Eco-Consultant can explain to your friends how to save energy, save water and create a healthier home for their families. What a great thing to share with any group of people you care about.

What Can I Expect When a GO GREEN Workshop is Held in My Home?

Your local Green Irene Eco-Consultant is there to share his or her green passion and wealth of information about living a more sustainable life, without being “preachy green”. Your Eco-Consultant will give a 20-30 minute presentation to your guests on green topics you think your friends are especially interested in. A lively question and answer period may ensue, especially if the conversation turns to LOCAL green initiatives and topics.

Green Irene-recommended products may be “tactfully” available to examine, ask questions about, and order. Unlike other direct sales “parties” you may have attended, there is no pressure to buy, though most people who attend do find something that save them money and help green their life. Curious about a low-flow showerhead that has the same feel as your current water-guzzling model? Want to get rid of toxic cleaning chemicals and looking for non-toxic alternatives? We have them. Our HVAC filters are a giant step ahead of those old fiberglass filters you currently use and offer a very high filtering level to take allergens and pollutants out of your home air as they pass through your HVAC.

GO GREEN Workshop Topics Can Include:

- Energy Efficient Lighting
- Energy Conservation
- Water Conservation
- Water Purity
- Indoor Air Quality
- Toxic Free Living
- Waste Reduction and Recycling
- Reducing Your Carbon Footprint

We can arrange workshops into seasons like GO GREEN for Spring and cover topics most relevant for that season, such as composting food waste, non toxic cleaners and outdoor chemicals.

Your local Eco-Consultant knows your local area and will tailor the information to the particular needs of your community. This often leads to a discussion of green initiatives at the local school or a new recycling regulation just implemented. You help tailor the content based on your interests and the time available.

Holding a GO GREEN Workshop outside of a home setting

Your local Green Irene is happy to hold a GO GREEN Workshop outside of a home setting, for example, in an office conference room, at a community center, at a local college or other public setting. We can tailor the Workshop to the particular needs and interests of the Host and the audience, the time available and even the season and region.

Does it cost anything for a Eco-Consultant to hold a Workshop?

There is no cost to host the GO GREEN Workshop in your home, nor is there a cost for your friends to attend. Green Irene does offer dozens of the best green home products for sale thru each consultant's website and our Eco-Consultant will introduce some of those in each topic area.

Our local Eco-Consultant may charge a Workshop fee when held, for example, at a corporate office or when travel is involved. Presentations in non-profit or community settings are usually exempt from this fee.

Why Should I Host a GO GREEN Workshop?

A GO GREEN Workshop is the perfect way for you to share your interest in 'going green' with others in your community. Your local Green Irene Eco-Consultant is prepared to come into your home or may offer to lead a Workshop wherever you wish.
